Item of general business, for discussion:

Rogaining was introduced to NZ and developed by orienteering clubs. The Waitangi21 rogaine weekend marked 21 years since OHV ran the first one in 1991. Since then orienteering clubs have run rogaines up to 24 hours including a world championship, and continue to run the majority of NZ rogaines by number. Orienteers have been innovators, running MTB rogaines, urban rogaines, public transport rogaines, multi-stage rogaines, etc etc.

In 2002 a group of rogaine enthusiasts formed a separate organisation solely dedicated to rogaines, the NZ Rogaine Association. It is most active in the South Island. We agreed with NZRA to alternate the running of a 24hr NZ Rogaine Championship. This year it was our turn, and we were unable to find a club to do it. It is time to review this arrangement. In practical terms, are we going to be able to run a championship in 2013?

Furthermore should reaffirm our commitment to the NZ Rogaine Championship? If yes, then that means that a hand should go up for 2013.

PRESIDENT's REPORT, 2011

Thank you for taking the time to read the 2011 NZOF Annual Report. My thanks to Stuart Payne for putting this all together, especially considering he is new back into the General Manager role for 2012. I would also like to thank my predecessor, Paul Dalton, for his term of five years as President.

Both membership and participation for 2011 were at high levels which we can all be very proud of. A huge quantity of volunteer time takes place throughout the country to make orienteering happen, so to all of you I take my hat off and congratulate you on a job well done.

Following on from the large earthquake in September 2010, in February 2011 we were witness to a devastating earthquake in Christchurch. All of our thoughts were with those in Christchurch, especially our orienteering friends. Through adversity you rose and continue to rise, running a number of events whilst living through a continuing difficult period. Orienteers throughout the country are in awe of your efforts.

Without wanting to repeat items later on in this annual report, my congratulations go to all of our representative orienteers for some stellar results on the international stage. The relatively new format of sprint orienteering is really opening up opportunities for NZ to compete on the international stage and also provides increased opportunities domestically for raising the awareness of the sport.

The NZOF Council had a couple of changes during the latter part of the year. Don Locke handed over to Jane Harding as the Wellington representative and Matt Smith moved to Australia and is being replaced by Dennis de Monchy as the Central Districts representative. Rob Crawford finished his term as NZOF General Manager and has also moved on to Australia. I wish to pass on my sincere gratitude to Don, Matt and Rob for their time on the Council and effort and wish them all the best for their future.

Looking ahead we have some key items coming up:

- In January 2013 the Wellington region hosts the Oceania Championships, which includes a World Cup round. The last time we hosted a round of the World Cup was back in 1994.
- We will go through our Strategic Plan review this year before starting the next 4-year window in 2013. We face a number of unique challenges and must face these head-on with a determination and willingness to reform where required.

Throughout 2011 your Council was very disciplined with its finances as we look ahead to challenges we face and new priorities. We must continue to ensure we invest wisely for the good of orienteering.

There is plenty to be achieved in the period ahead and if re-elected I look forward to working with you all again in the coming twelve months.

Simon Addison

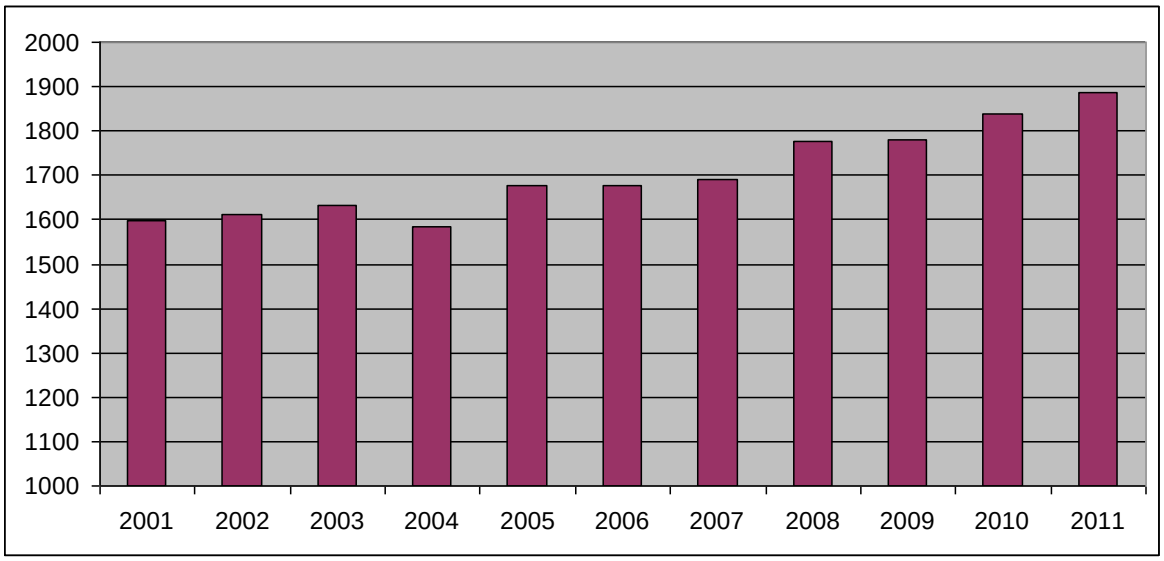
Highlights

- Membership at new high of 1,886.
- 380 events held with average participation of 101 per event.
- Angela Simpson on the podium with 6th place in the sprint at JWOC in Poland.
- Lizzie Ingham top 20 in all three finals at WOC in France, ending the year with a world ranking of 24.
- Chris Forne (twice), Ross Morrison and Amber Morrison place top 30 at WOC.
- Matt Ogden top 20 at JWOC in the middle and the women's relay team of Kate Morrison, Jaime Goodwin and Angela Simpson made the top ten, placing 9th.
- A NZ team competed in the first ever Oceania MTBO Championships, providing a forerunner to the A-NZ MTBO Challenge in Central Otago in January of this year, where New Zealand made it four challenge wins in a row.
- NZ Schools team win Southern Cross Trophy against Australian State teams for eighth successive time.
- New Zealand secures World Cup events for January 2013.

Membership and Participation

It is again satisfying to report the first two highlights listed above. Membership for 2011 increased nationally by 2.5%, reaching its highest level in the history of orienteering in New Zealand.

Chart 1: Membership, 2001-2011



Increases were recorded in the Auckland, Wellington and South Island areas. However, the Central Districts area continued its decline of recent years. The difficulties this region faces includes declining population as a whole. According to Statistics New Zealand, Waikato lost more of its residents in 2011 than any other region in New Zealand, with Bay of Plenty being the third highest recording a net loss. Canterbury was the other top-three region to lose population, mainly the result of the devastating earthquakes, which left its event programme in tatters, reflected in a fall in membership. However, it is pleasing to see strong growth in provincial clubs such as Red Kiwi, Nelson and Southland. The Auckland club also recorded a significant increase in membership.

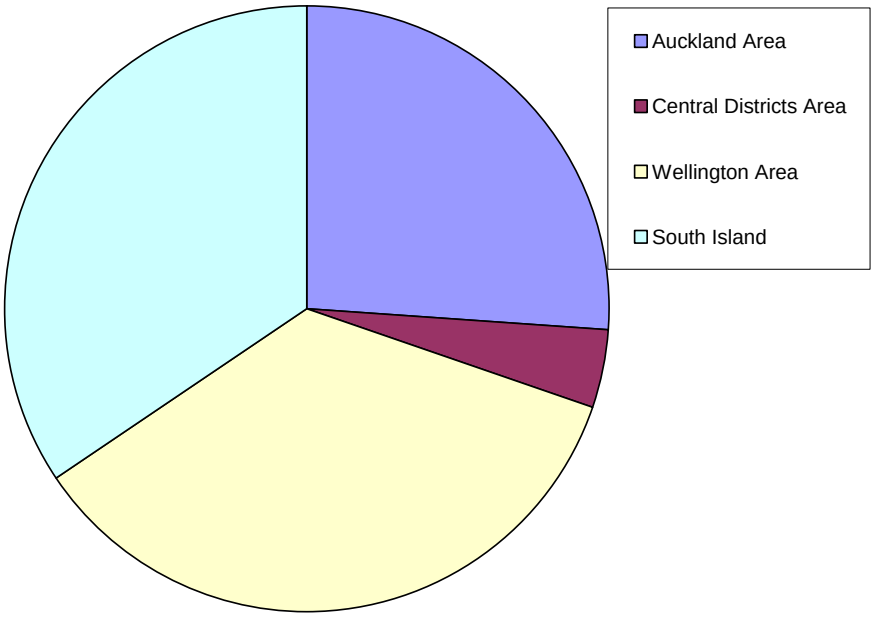
Chart 2: Membership by region



Junior membership dropped slightly to 35%, while orienteering continues to be well balanced on a gender basis with 45% of members being female. Nationally, recruitment of new members in 2012 was steady; at 385 they made up a 20% of all members as at the end of 2011. The largest recruitments of new members were made by Nelson, Auckland and PAPO. But the real success story in the increase in membership in 2011 was the increase in retention. Nationally, the retention rate was 82%. We have compiled retention rates since 2006 and the 2011 rate is the highest so far recorded. Four clubs recorded 90% or higher: Hutt Valley, North West, Red Kiwi and Wairarapa.

Although the number of events and the number participating were down on the record numbers recorded in 2010, they were both very satisfactory, with 380 events held and close to 38,500 participants. (Note that each day of a multi-day is counted as a separate event.)

Conventional foot events averaged 101 participants per event and rogaines averaged 99. However, the average for mountain bike events remains much lower at 38; nevertheless the average for all events was 101 (in round numbers). The charts following show the contribution of the different forms to the totals for participation and events respectively.

See charts 3 & 4, page following.

Chart 3: Participation by type

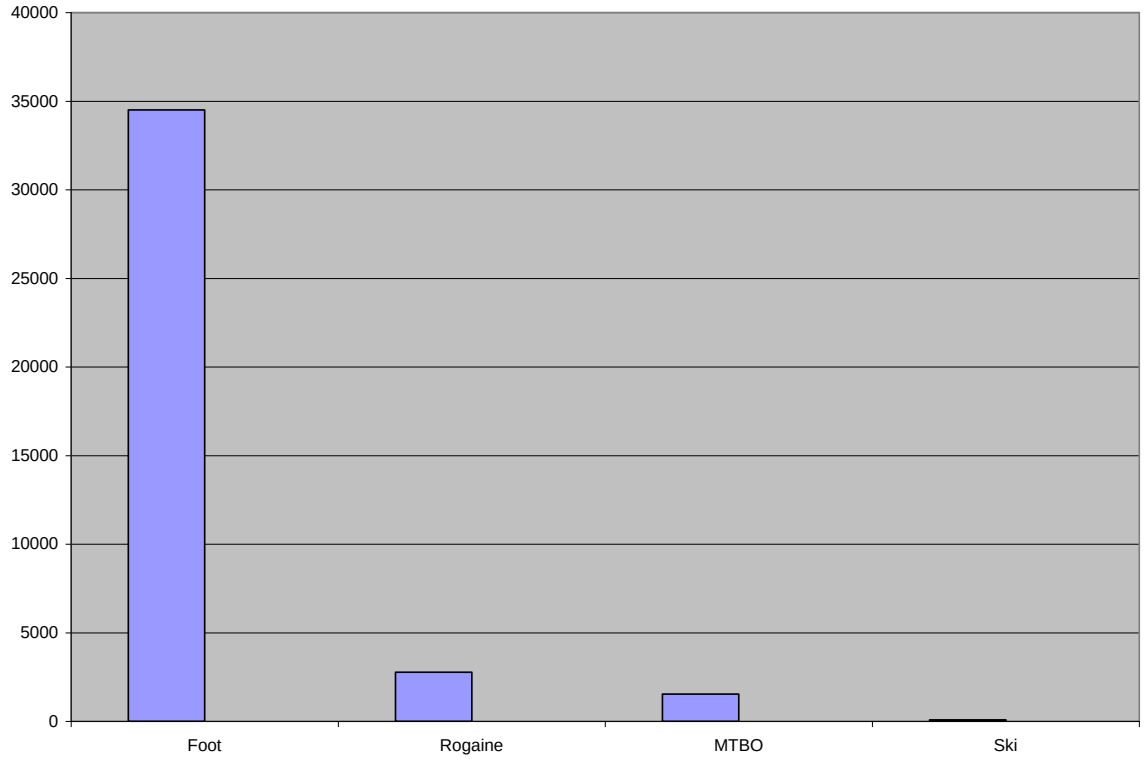


Chart 4: Events by type

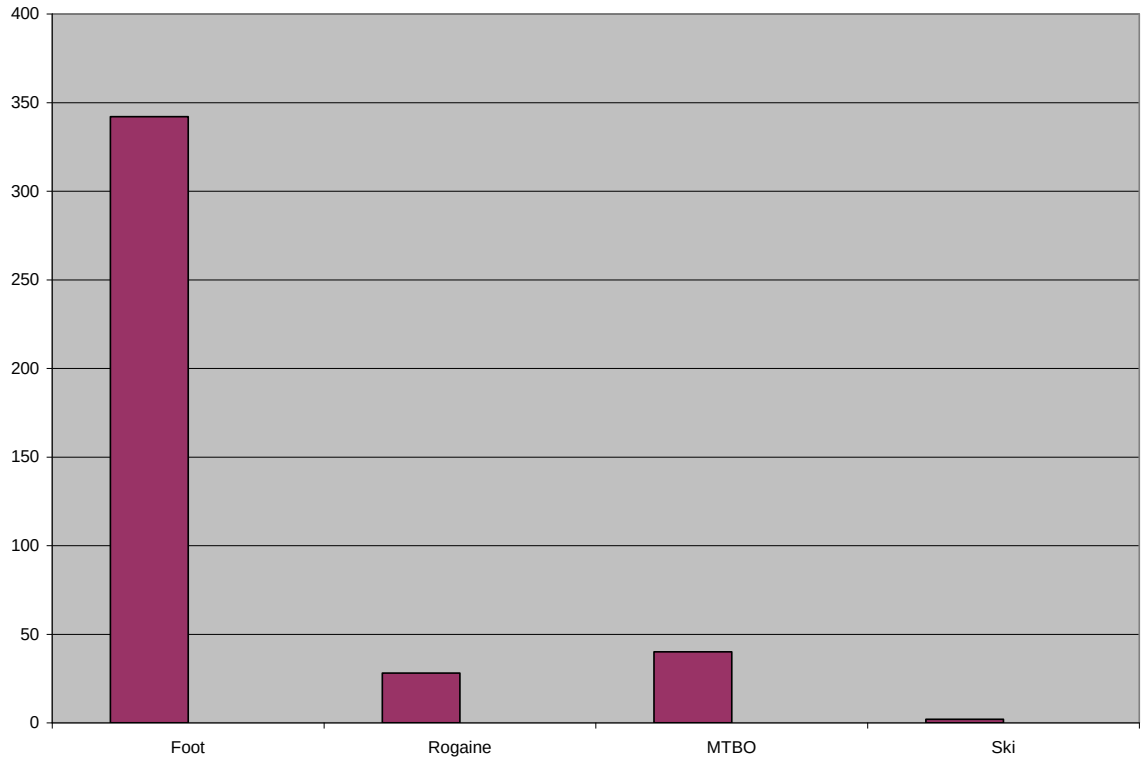
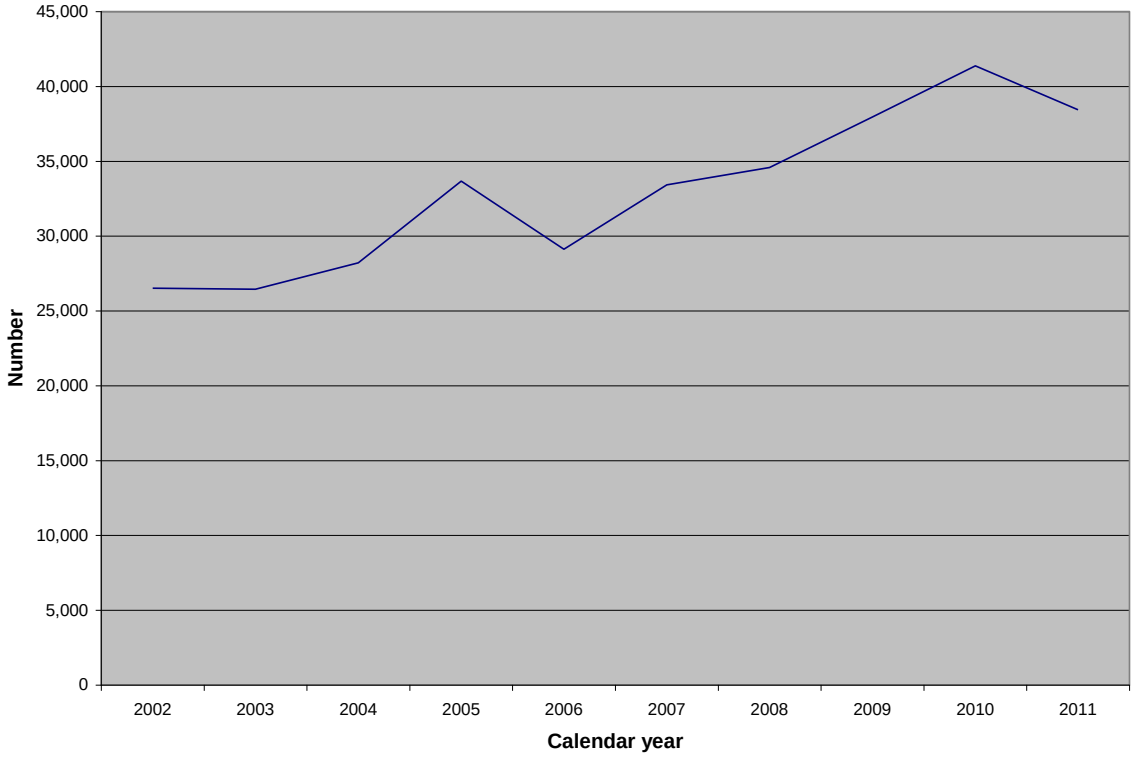


It is also pleasing to note a revival of orienteering in Whangarei with eight events being held in 2011, averaging over 50 participants each. Heading into 2012 and Whangarei Orienteering has an event programme, a website and a new permanent course.

Monitoring participation continues to be difficult. Total events and numbers taking part are reliable indicators, as long as all events are captured or the coverage is comparable year-on-year. If this cannot be guaranteed, average participation per event may then be the preferred indicator.

Either way, despite fluctuations, as the chart below shows, it is clear that participation numbers have been trending upwards.

Chart 5: Participation by year



With the number of traditional (out in the forest and countryside) events staying fairly stable, growth has occurred in events organised "close to home": street, park, school and sprint events. In times of difficult economic conditions and a high price of fuel, such events make economic sense as well. They are also less expensive for clubs to organise and they are more visible to the general public.

Management

Regrettably the then General Manager, Rob Crawford, suffered further ill-health in 2011 resulting in time in hospital. This meant that some tasks were not able to be done on time or not able to be done at all. It also placed a strain on the volunteer members of the council, especially President, Simon Addison, to ensure that essential tasks were carried through. On the positive side it enabled the NZOF Council to further review back-up facilities and thus improve systems for such emergencies.

The Management Plan for 2011 identified achieving progress in the following areas as critical:

1. Website and technology
2. NZOF resourcing, including finance
3. Implement change from Magazine to Yearbook
4. Technical review
5. Club development funding (criteria, checklist)
6. Assisting clubs in difficulty
7. Development activities as projects
8. High Performance Strategy
9. Supporting clubs with volunteer development.

However, partly for reasons already noted, progress was slower in all areas than had been hoped for.

Website

Stage I implementation is near completion with content and programming almost finished. Once it is, the new website will be operative. Further design work to make the website interactive with users (Stage II) will then commence. For this it is proposed to apply for gaming trust funding.

Resourcing and technical review

With the agreement to host the World Cup next January and then securing both project scoping and event funding from Sport NZ for the events, progress on other resource issues was limited.

Yearbook

The transition from the quarterly magazine to the Yearbook has been achieved; see also Services.

Development funding and assisting clubs

Draft criteria are being developed for the Council's comment; see also Services.

HP Strategy

The long-term role of NZOF in High Performance is to be addressed as part of the Strategic Planning process in 2012. It is also our aim to review the Selection Policy in 2012. In the meantime, a strategic HP timetable for 2012 is in place.

Volunteer development

Although there was little progress on this in 2011, finalising of a Best Practice document 'Volunteer Management' for use by clubs is, at time of writing, near completion.

Donee organisation status

In 2011, NZOF sought donee organisation status with Inland Revenue, which would have recognised our federation as a charitable body. However, the application was declined and has since been referred to Sport NZ.

Services

With New Zealand securing the opening rounds of the World Cup for January 2013 along with support funding from Sport NZ, the Oceania-World Cup 2013 Board has been set up to administer the event with Graham Teahan contracted as Event Director. In addition to Sport NZ's funding, NZOF has advanced the Board a loan of $10,000. Being held in conjunction with the Oceania Championships, the world cup events will provide our elites with exciting and challenging competition on home terrain. Other benefits include increased publicity for our sport in the lead up to, and duration of, the carnival, along with a higher profile in the immediate future.

Twelve months ago it was reported that we expected to have the upgraded website complete by the end of 2011. Although, at time of writing, it is disappointing to still not have it in place, it is almost there. In the meantime, some information has been disseminated by way of a Facebook page. We anticipate ongoing commitment to spending in this area, as we see the website as our highest current priority.

A more concerted effort is planned in 2012 to help clubs identify projects that NZOF can either assist with resourcing or funding. In line with this, the promotional brochure, reprinted in 2010, is one such resource, and already in 2012 a few hundred copies have been distributed to some clubs.

At the end of February this year, the 2011 Yearbook – albeit a couple of months late – was produced and is planned as a continuing publication in lieu of the former quarterly magazine.

In 2011, Media and Promotion Officer, Mick Finn, continued to focus on media promotion through traditional channels such as press releases and magazine articles, and through social media with the Silva Super Series blog, Twitter and Facebook, as well as YouTube videos.

In terms of cost/benefit, Mick reports that social networking appears to be of greater value and additionally provides an online repository of information, images and contacts.

The 2011 junior camp was held in Hawkes Bay and with 80 participants was a major success, not least thanks to the organisation of Jane Herries and the many coaches who contributed. The number participating augurs well for the immediate future of our sport.

With the impending Central Otago mountain bike orienteering (MTBO) carnival, since held in January of this year (see also High Performance), the MTBO committee, convened by Michael Wood, drafted a set of rules for MTBO in NZ. After about 15 years without a set of rules, they formulated a rule-book and some guidelines for championships.

High Performance

As indicated in the Highlights, 2011 was a very successful year for New Zealand. A more comprehensive list of achievements is included in this report in the Almanac section (page 31).

After having secured a podium finish (6th) at the World University Championships in 2010, Angela Simpson did it again at the even more prestigious Junior World Championships (JWOC) in Poland, again finishing 6th in the sprint. Not since Tania Robinson in 1992 have we had a podium finish at JWOC. Once again a full team of 12 competed at JWOC and besides Angela's success there were other noteworthy results. Matt Ogden placed top 20 in the middle, the women's relay team of Kate Morrison, Jaime Goodwin and Angela Simpson made the top ten, placing 9th and the men's relay team of Gene Beveridge, Matt Ogden and Toby Scott placed 12th.

The advent of regular test series with Australia and our domestic national league (Silva Super Series) appears to be achieving our goal of better and more consistent results in major overseas competitions. At the World Championships (WOC) in France, Lizzie Ingham placed top 20 in all three finals: 11th in the sprint, 18th in the middle and 13th in the long. This is probably the most consistent performance ever achieved by a Kiwi at WOC. In total, five of the team made A-finals. Besides Lizzie, Ross Morrison (sprint), Chris Forne (middle and long), Amber Morrison (middle) and Penny Kane (middle) were A-finalists.

For the first time in four years, we had a women's relay team at WOC. The team of Penny Kane, Amber Morrison and Lizzie Ingham finished a creditable 16th, with the men's team placing 23rd.

In trans-Tasman competition, The NZ Pinestars and the Australian Bushrangers again shared the A-NZ Test series, each team securing a home win. The NZ Secondary Schools team, however, won the Southern Cross Trophy against the various Australian State school teams for the eighth successive time. In fact no one else but New Zealand has won it. In the relays, NZ won three of four: senior boys, junior boys and junior girls.

In mountain bike orienteering (MTBO), the first Oceania Championship was held in October in Victoria, Australia. Marquita Gelderman won all three women's elite titles (sprint, middle and long). Pete Swanson in M40 did the same.

And while the Central Otago MTBO Carnival was held in January of this year, the planning and preparation for it occurred throughout 2011. The carnival, which included an A-NZ MTBO Challenge, brought on stream a number of new maps and lifted the profile of MTBO in the orienteering community. As an initiative of PAPO, with support from the Dunedin club and the NZOF MTBO committee, many thanks are due to all three organisations.

Financial Performance

In 2011, NZOF Council aimed to record a surplus on operations to provide, not least, a buffer for the hosting of World Cup races in January 2013. This was achieved, the surplus being a healthy $22,136 in comparison with the close to break-even result of $1,878 for the 2010 year.

The surplus was achieved by a marked increase in income, up 11.5%, and decreased expenditure, down 10.5%. There were, however, in both cases some non-strategic reasons. The largest contributor to the drop in expenditure was decreased management expenditure where fewer hours were worked by the general manager because of ill health. On the income side there continues to be some vagaries to the amount collected from event levies because of timing delays in their collection. This means that each annual total of levies received does not fully relate to the year in question.

A deficit is budgeted for 2012 with significant amounts scheduled for the four-yearly strategic planning cycle and the sanction fee for World Cup 2013.

Further commentaries on expenditure are detailed in the following sub-sections of Management, Services, High Performance and World Cup 2013.

INCOME & TOTAL EXPENDITURE	2012 Budget	2011 Actual	2010 Actual
Affiliation levies	14,204	13,491	13,547

SURPLUS (DEFICIT)	(11,815)	22,136	1,878

As remarked above the decrease in Management expenditure was almost entirely the result of fewer hours worked by the general manager. With an increase in the hourly rate and full hours contracted to be worked personnel expenditure is budgeted to substantially increase. Office expenditure is therefore also budgeted to increase in tandem.

MANAGEMENT EXPENDITURE	2012 Budget	2011 Actual	2010 Actual

Affiliations & General	4,894	6,295	5,451
MANAGEMENT TOTAL	43,394	32,159	38,882

In total, Services expenditure increased 11.6% in 2011. However, as footnoted, this was exaggerated by some expenses for the 2010 junior training camp not being realised until 2011. Note also that public liability insurance is now classified as a service to clubs rather than a management expense. The increase for 2012 is budgeted to be a further 50% rise. This is principally driven by the four-yearly strategic planning cycle, projects targeted to assist clubs ($5,000) and the Yearbook.

SERVICES EXPENDITURE	2012 Budget	2011 Actual	2010 Actual

SERVICES TOTAL	27,825	18,532	16,002

Note 1: Some expenses for the December 2010 camp were received after the end of year

With the High Performance Director standing down in the middle of the year, there was a significant reduction in personnel expenditure. In contrast, net spending on JWOC was up mainly because of much more expensive entry and accommodation costs in 2011 compared with 2010. As footnoted, the overall fall in High Performance expenditure was exaggerated by some D-Squad expenses related to 2011 being incurred in 2010.

For 2012, with teams set to compete in World Cup races and the biennial World University Championships, expenditure is budgeted to be slightly above the 2010 total.

World Cup 2013 received $30,000 funding from SPARC (now Sport NZ). Half of this was earmarked for consultancy fees for a feasibility study required by SPARC. The other half has been paid to the Oceania-World Cup 2013 Board for event expenses (including personnel). For this purpose, a further $15,000 is to be received, $10,000 of this in 2012, resulting in the net cost to the federation in 2012 being the sanction fee payable to the IOF.

Sport New Zealand (formerly SPARC) investment

Sport NZ remains our most significant investor. Besides the investment funding for World Cup 2013, referred to above, Sport NZ's core investment in orienteering for 2011-2012 focuses on community sport and recreation, where the outcomes they seek to achieve are:

- More kiwi kids in sport and recreation
- More Kiwis in sport and recreation.

In accordance with these broad goals, outcomes agreed with Sport NZ include:

- increasing both the number of young people and adults participating in our sport;
- increasing the number of young people participating in organised sport in both primary and secondary schools;
- increasing the number and quality of our volunteers;
- improving our ability at the national and regional level to deliver sport in communities.

Acknowledgments

In 2011, net of GST, the NZOF received cash grants of around $50,174 as well as sponsorship in kind estimated to be worth approximately $5,700 – a total of $55,774.

Accordingly, the New Zealand Orienteering Federation thanks the following organisations and/or brands for funding and cash sponsorship in 2011: Sport New Zealand (formerly SPARC), Ampro Sales Ltd (distributors of Silva products) and The MAPsport Shop.

The following organisations and/or brands are acknowledged for in-kind sponsorship: Silva (medals, prizes & orienteering equipment), and for the NZ JWOC team: Dirty D (uniforms), Compass Point UK (clothing & equipment), PUMA (tracksuits, additional clothing and equipment), Vitasport (sports drinks), Leppin Sport (energy products) and USL - Universal Specialities Ltd (first aid and therapeutic products). For the extensive in-kind sponsorship obtained by the JWOC team, we thank James Bradshaw.

The federation recognises that in an era of volatile sponsorship the length of time the agreements with Ampro Sales Ltd and The MAPsport Shop have been in place (both more than fifteen years) gives them a value greater than the dollars recorded in the accounts.

Staffing and Volunteers

At the national level NZOF, like clubs, is essentially a volunteer organisation. Furthermore, our ability to source external income is limited, resulting in a challenge to provide the structure one might ordinarily expect from a national organisation of a growing sport. As a result, we ended 2011 with some vital positions vacant, notably High Performance Director.

At our AGM a year ago, Paul Dalton stood down as president, after a dedicated five years. In his place, Simon Addison was elected, perhaps the youngest president of any NSO in New Zealand. With Simon's step up, Pete Swanson was elected vice-president. Also on the Council in 2009, Don Locke stood down as WOA representative, after three years service, while Mathew Smith's departure for Australia meant a vacancy for the Central Districts representative.

Changes in the high performance area were Cartsten Joergensen resigning as HP Director in May , after close to five years service and James Bradshaw standing down as co-ordinator of the Development Squad at the end of the year, after five years service.

Others who have continued throughout the year as national officers are listed on page 4. To all these people, we owe a debt of appreciation for their contributions to our sport. Looking ahead, Sarah Gray has stepped up as co-ordinator of the Development Squad for 2012, while Tom Reynolds is managing the 2012 Silva Super Series.

However, besides those listed on page 4 are many others, not least the managers and coaches of our national teams. For 2011, we thank Jamie Stewart (manager, WOC), Dieter Wolf (Switzerland - coach, WOC), Owen Cambridge (manager, JWOC), James Bradshaw (coach, JWOC), Derek Morrison and Anna Robertson (managers, NZ Secondary Schools team), and John Robinson (manager, ANZ Challenge).

Finally, we thank Rob Crawford for his three years as General Manager, and wish him well for his future.

KATIE FETTES MEMORIAL TRUST, 2011

8 Somerton Rise, Westmorland, Christchurch 8025
Ph 03 335 0711 Email juliaf@xtra.co.nz

The Katie Fettes Memorial Trust was set up in Katie's memory in 1998 to help develop and promote the amateur sport of orienteering in New Zealand and to provide financial assistance to the manager and coach of any national orienteering team.

Two grants were made in 2011. James Bradshaw received $800 as coach of the NZ JWOC team that competed in Poland in July, and $800 went to Jamie Stewart as manager of the WOC team that competed in France.

The Trust encourages applications for funding in 2012 and hopes that clubs can let their members know that financial assistance is available for managers and coaches to ease the financial burden of assisting New Zealand teams at international competitions.

Growth in Club Membership

In he table following, two measures of long-term membership growth are provided; 10 year and 5 year. Although over both time periods, growth in all clubs in the Auckland Area has been strong, other areas have been a mix of ups and downs.

Increase Participation

In the table of participation statistics following (page 20), major and other events that can be deemed to have a significant non-local presence, have been removed to gauge local participation trends. Eight out of 18 clubs increased or maintained the number of events held for local participation, and ten out of 18 clubs saw average participation increase or maintained in their local event programme. Nevertheless, too much should not be read into year-on-year statistics, since a club that hosts nationals cannot be expected to necessarily maintain their local programme to the level recorded in a year when it did not host these championships. Examples below are Hawkes Bay and Dunedin, which in 2011 hosted the NZ and NZSS championships, respectively.

And while PAPO's number of events in 2011 was seriously affected by the February earthquake, their overall participation numbers and average participation remained high partly because the family day of orienteering held in conjunction with the Christchurch City Council (just two days before the devastating earthquake) attracted a record attendance of 1600.

In addition to the above, the table on page 37 of this report, shows all events held and by type. It is pleasing there to note the increase in the number of school events being held (and at time of writing a sixth club has introduced a school series in 2012).

In regard to school series, it is worth noting the initiatives of the North West club which has obtained Kiwisport Funding to employ Mike Beveridge to organise an extensive series. Other clubs with organised school series in 2011 included Counties Manukau, Dunedin, Nelsonand Wellington. Mention also should be made of the continuing efforts, over many years, of Val Robinson in Counties Manukau. In 2011 her annual Franklin Zone Primary School Championships had 665 participants.

Note: Total events held is not the summation of individual categories as some clubs combine foot / MTBO or rogaine / MTBO events.

* Counties Manukau general foot events include school events held as part of a summer series, which were not able to be identified separately.

 One event held was a schools rogaine championship, therefore appearing in two categories, hence participation total is not the sum of the categories.

 Independent fundraisers.
