PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Congratulations to all of our clubs and individuals from throughout the country, 2013 has been a strong year for orienteering in New Zealand. Membership is at record levels, with many clubs successfully moving participants through to members. With our sport featuring clubs at its core, membership is a strong reflection of the strength of the overall sport and the relevance of the offerings of orienteering to the general population.

So 40 years after the founding of the NZOF it is important that we reflect on where we are and where we are going. As a sport we are larger than we were, but we are still very much a small sport. The sport has changed significantly with the introduction of shorter-format orienteering events and the movement towards more urbanised orienteering. We have also seen growth in shorter-form rogaines and mountain bike orienteering as well. As we look forward to the period ahead we want to keep growing and using our limited resources wisely, which is why we have our Strategic Plan.

Our strategic planning process entailed a number of workshops and discussions with people across the sport and also on the fringes of the sport. From this there are four key subject areas for us to focus on as a sport:

- Making it easy (for participants and organisers)
- Growing participation (and membership)
- Strengthen foundations
- Enhance performance

Each of these areas has particular items for us to work towards and will require input and buy-in across the whole sport. We are challenged by limited resources, both at a national body level as well as at club level. With limited resources we must always look at opportunities to be smart in what we do and also accepting that we can't do everything. To this end it is important that the whole sport gets together and we are looking forward to initiating an annual national conference to assist the implementation of our strategic plan.

I'd like to thank Stuart Payne for stepping back into the General Manager ("GM") role in 2011, with Stuart hanging up the boots in early 2013. I thoroughly enjoyed working with Stuart in a close capacity and thank him for always bringing his vast experience to the role for the benefit of the full Council and sport. Stuart wrote a fantastic 40 year history which I highly recommend as a must-read and you can find this on our website. Coming into fulfil the GM role was Catriona McBean, who is our first GM from outside the sport. Catriona brings vast experience to the role, having previously held a range of roles in other organisations including Swimming NZ. I wish to thank the Council for all their time that they volunteered to the sport in 2013. Area representatives were Pip Poole (Auckland Area, North West), Dennis de Monchy (Central Districts Area, Bay of Plenty), Jane Harding (Wellington Area, Wellington) and Owen Cambridge (South Island Area, Dunedin). I also wish to thank Peter Swanson (Auckland) who as Vice President contributed significant experience and time into both our strategic planning process and also in late 2013 led our rebranding which you will be seeing now. In a personal capacity I wish to thank Peter for his direct support he has given me as President.

The year 2013 was a great for our High Performance athletes representing us a sport from New Zealand. To have a medal at the Junior World Orienteering Championships ("JWOC") for the second year running, with Tim Robertson winning bronze in the Sprint, was truly inspiring to all orienteers throughout New Zealand. From where we were even 10 years ago as a sport, to now, we have seen huge development in our juniors. A significant part of this has been the experiences our juniors get competing in the NZ Schools team as part of the Southern Cross Challenge in Australia each year. We now see each year a full complement of juniors training hard with intense competition to make the JWOC team, just like the NZ Schools team. We also see hot demand for our Junior Camp each year. One cannot underestimate the importance of highly experienced coaches and managers for all our teams and the role they play in increasing the performances of our representatives. Thank you to all who have volunteered your time in coaching and managing our teams and well done to all those who made representative teams in 2013.

The Wellington region also hosted the Oceania Championships in early 2013, with a round of the Orienteering World Cup being held on home terrain for the first time since 1994. A huge amount of effort was put into the organising of this event from people throughout the lower part of the North Island and I know after speaking to a number of people who took part in the World Cup that they thoroughly enjoyed their experience of racing on home terrain against some of the world's best. A real highlight was the 3rd place achieved by Lizzie Ingham in the Sprint in Wellington.

As an organisation one the key challenges that we face is that we need to move at a faster pace and have higher levels of engagement with clubs and the orienteering community. To this end as a Council we have started having monthly web conferences, which is aimed towards enabling faster interaction. We have now obtained a web conferencing facility through Zoom, which is available for our committees and others to use if available. Over the last few years we've also steadily been implementing new systems and last year we moved some of our systems into the cloud, with email across to Google and also our accounting system from MYOB through to Xero. We need to look always at ways of making use of technology developments to streamline our operations. Looking across the Tasman at Orienteering Australia we see they have implemented the Eventor system for online entries and memberships. An online entry and membership system has great appeal to us as a national body as this will significantly reduce the administration that currently exists on both the club end as well as the national body end.

It has been fantastic in 2013 to see the significant growth of a number of clubs, in particular through strong school orienteering programs. Orienteering at schools level still presents the greatest opportunity for our sport to grow, both in participation counts and also ideally through to membership. The model developed by Hawke's Bay previously has proven that bringing in juniors also brings families and it is great to see clubs like North West and Counties Manukau now using after-school sprint events to connect to their community with orienteering. We also see strong demand in Taranaki with their rogaine series and their schools rogaine championships. Moving forward in 2014 we wish to learn from the successes had and implement a National Schools Rogaine Championships and in the years ahead ensure that we have regional competitions to feed in and support this area of our sport. Whilst there has been growth in many of our larger clubs, it is concerning to see the sport struggling in some areas, such as the Central Districts area.

The NZOF must look to continually challenge itself and look at what we can do to add more value to our clubs. In 2014 we to focus on the following personnel priorities: our committees and their structures, fixtures, high performance, volunteer development and websites. On this we are moving forward with plans for three part-time paid roles to cover high performance, volunteer development and websites. We also look forward to planning and implementing a number of policy updates and ensure we do this with high levels of input from the wider orienteering community. To this end, we will be sending out discussion documents for comments and input and we look forward to having people contribute their thoughts. A high priority on this is our selection policy and subsequent sub policies per team.

So as you can see there is a lot to be done in 2014 and beyond. Once again thanks to all who have contributed their time to orienteering in 2013. It has been my privilege to serve the sport and I look forward to the opportunities that we have to grow the sport.

Yours in orienteering

Simon Addison
President

GENERAL MANAGER'S REPORT

This year has seen a number of people and positions change hands, indicative of the continuing growth and development of orienteering in New Zealand. Without the support and expertise of these orienteers the sport would not be where it is today. A vote of gratitude to each of the following:

Stuart Payne finished as General Manager in early 2013 after taking over the position, again, in 2011. Stuart has led the organisation twice in this role, stepping into the fold when needed, providing advice and guidance to ensure the plans and strategies have stayed on course.

Financials

My first task was to transition the accounting system from MYOB to the online service provided by Xero. Updating these systems and process, while time consuming in the first instance, are certainly more effective in the long-term and also enable greater and easier access to financial information for the President, Vice-President and Council.

The 2013 Financial Statement presented in the following pages is in a contemporary format and is somewhat different from previous years. The 2013 accounts represent gross income and expenditure rather than the net versions previously presented and as presented in the 2013 Budget. As a summary of some of the key areas are detailed below (gross totals) for comparative purposes.

	2013 Actual	2013 Budget	2012 Actual
Club & Event Levies	$94,156	$84,347	$77,246
Grants	$24,000	$35,000	$30,000
Total Income	$190,506	$123,197	$168,471
Administration	$13,286	$18,334	$14,236
Staffing Expenses	$29,258	$34,250	$37,064
Club Services	$22,028	$32,785	$10,262
Total Operating Expenses	$146,539	$122,584	$161,193
Competition and Squad Income	$67,252	0	$55,986
Competition and Squad Expenses	$81,966	$22,215	$99,631
Net Profit	$43,967	$-113	$7,278

Significant differences between the two years include:

- Oceania Championships event levies are included within 2013. The 2012 Grants also included a $10,000 grant for Oceania from Sport NZ. The Oceania Championships are hosted alternatively between New Zealand and Australia and will only be represented within the NZOF accounts as non-Competition items when New Zealand hosts the event.
- Staffing Expenses in 2013 declined as a result of a number of positions being vacant, the General Manager role dropping from 24 to 20 hours per week, and the High Performance Director position becoming vacant during the year.
- The development of the new NZOF website during 2013 has accounted for the increase in expenditure in the Services to Clubs area.

Each year NZOF selects orienteers to represent New Zealand at a range of competitions and to attend camps for coaching and development purposes. Detailed following are the major competitions and camps which were undertaken in 2013. Again the information provided is represented as gross totals. The variances outlined represent the support provided by NZOF to assist in the successful delivery of the events and camps. Support includes assistance towards coach travel and accommodation costs, and entry fees.

40 Years of Orienteering

It's been 40 years since the Orienteering was formally established in New Zealand and the essence of the organisation remains the same – to provide opportunities for people to compete in orienteering events around the country. A brief summary of key dates are listed in this Annual Report, but a thorough history has been written by Stuart Payne (previous General Manager) and is available from the NZOF website.

The challenge of everyone involved in the sport is to ensure the sport is left in a better position than when joined. To this end, the release of the new strategic plan has set some very clear goals for the organisation moving forward and also recognises where the organisation is in terms of development and potential. These are exciting times for everyone as the Federation comes of age, and starts to enhance and expand upon what has gone in the past while recognising the new challenges we face in an every changing, and quickly changing world.

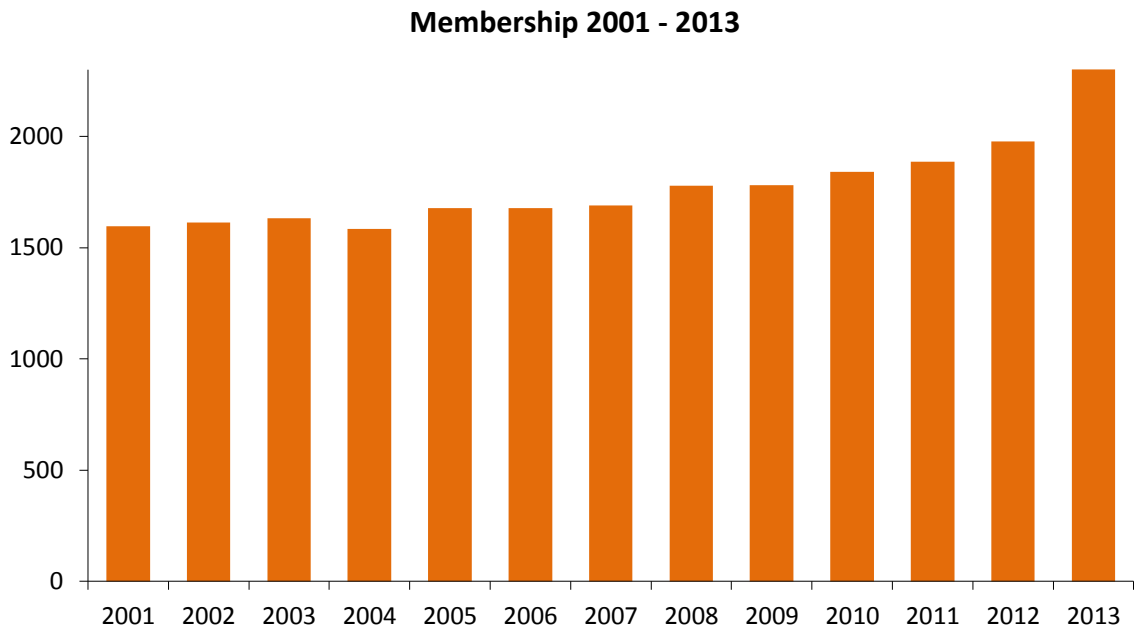
Work on the new website has required an immense amount of time and commitment, both from our project manager Erin Swanson, but also the company engaged to build the site. The launch of the site was planned for late 2013 but due to an expanded brief and increased technical requirements the launch has been deferred to early 2014. One of the key focuses of the new site has been how to maximise it as a marketing tool for non-orienteers, so the site has been designed with two clients in mind – our current members who want information on events and competitions and potential members we need to entice into our sport. As such, time was taken to research and well consider the design and functionality of the site so this markets could best be met. I look forward to the launch of the new site and the feedback from members and non-members alike.

THE LION FOUNDATION

Support for the design and development of the website was provided by The Lion Foundation.

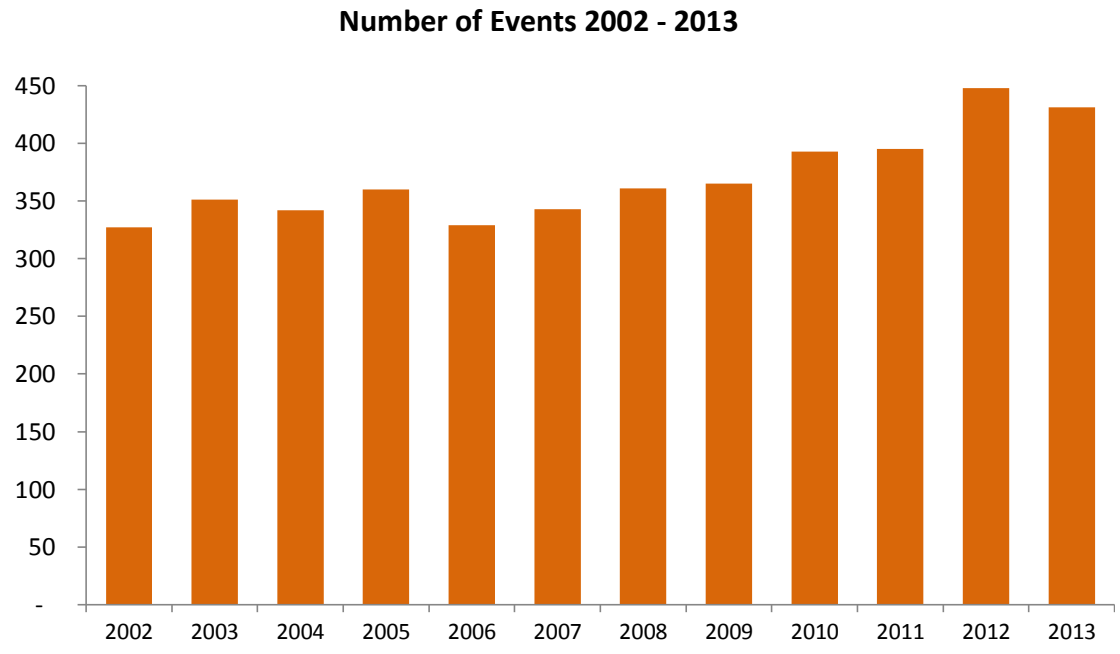
Membership

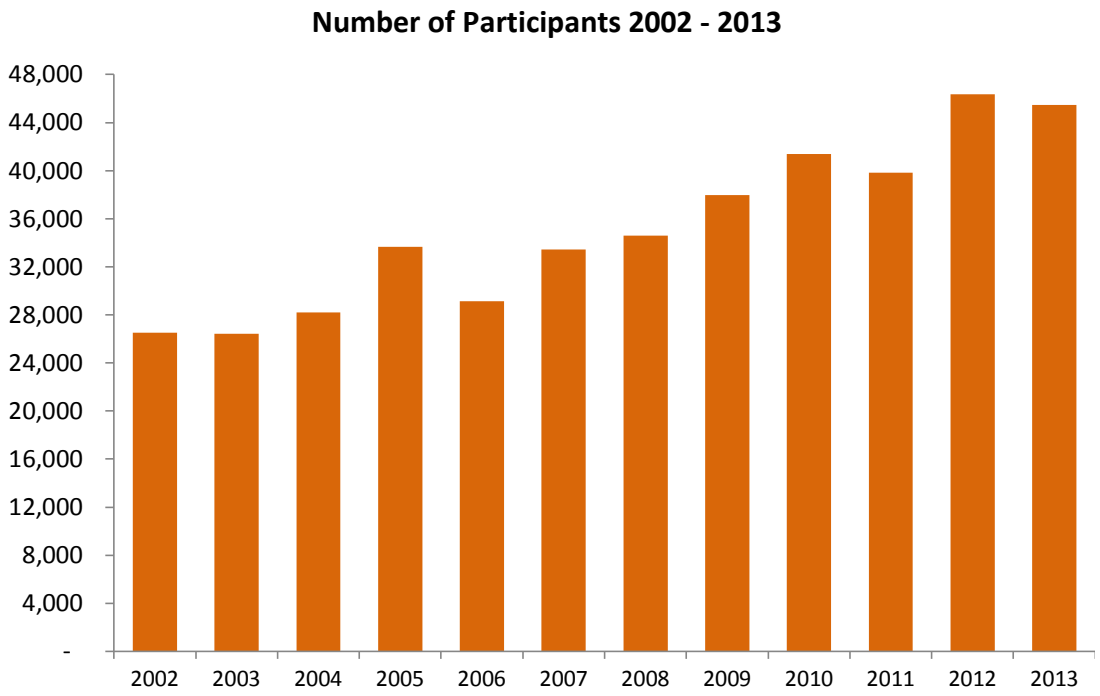
Membership to orienteering clubs continue to grow at a regular rate, which is in contrast to the general trend in sport of club membership declining. This success must be attributed to those club members who are actively making orienteering and orienteering events desirable to New Zealanders as a sport to become involved in. Clubs should take this opportunity to celebrate this success and continue to provide the opportunities and events which are attracting these new members.



Events and Participants

There was a small drop in the number of events undertaken in 2013 which can be attributed to a small number of clubs running fewer events in 2013 than 2012, and a change in event focus with clubs organising and arranging the Oceania and World Cup events in early 2013. However, the overall trend over the last decade continues to show an increase in the number of orienteering events and participants.





A few thank yous:
John Powell stood down as Fixtures Officer after doing this role since August 2011. John has handed this task to me to manage as we transition to a new appointment.

Sarah O'Sullivan (nee Gray) completed her 2 year appointment as D-Squad Coordinator on a high after a great D-squad camp at Mt Cheeseman in December.

I would also like to thank a number of other volunteers who have assisted me settling into my new role – Peter Watson (Convenor of Selectors), Linda Smith (Schools Co-ordinator), and Roger Woodroofe (website) – without your help and guidance I would have found my learning a lot harder. Also thanks to Anna Robertson and Malcolm Ingham who managed teams this year and were instrumental in the success of these tours.

40 YEARS OF ORIENTEERING FEDERATION

Stuart Payne (previous General Manager) has written a very thorough history of the Federation which is available on the NZOF website, but in celebration of 40 years of the Federation, the following is but a brief history of Orienteering in New Zealand and the establishment of the Federation.

"late 1947"	Jim Bellwood, a NZ PE teacher attends a Sports Academy in Sweden. Jim later coached Yvette Williams Olympic Gold long-jump medallist. In 1953, he introduced orienteering into his PE curriculum at Avondale College in Auckland.
1950	Otago University Tramping Club using a Lands and Survey topographical map [1:63,666 (one inch to the mile)] organises an event.
1954	100 athletes ran in the Kumeu-Huapai-Riverhead area with 1:63,666 maps and Woolworths' compasses organised by Lou Brunetti of the Lynndale Harrier Club.
1958	Mt Roskill Grammar purchase of a set of Silva compasses and begins weekly after-school map reading and compass exercises.
	Ivan Pickens introduces the sport to the University Tramping Club (Auckland). At their May camp they hold an event in the Waitakere Ranges but the area proves too bushy, so subsequent events are held in the foothills of the Kaimai and Hunua Ranges.
1967	Canterbury University Tramping Club, following the model of events run by the Melbourne University Mountaineering Club, holds the first TWALK (twenty-four hour walk). This is the longest running navigational event in NZ.
1969	Gordon Pirie, British Olympic Games track silver medallist, organises the first official competition in New Zealand at the RNZAF station at Hobsonville, under the banner of the New Zealand Orienteering Association.
1971	A New Zealand team - Colin Battley, Perry Cunningham, Beau Doherty, Ralph King, Sverre Moen, Gordon Pirie and Jack Ralston – are selected to compete in Australia. The Auckland Orienteering Association is formed.
1973	The New Zealand Orienteering Federation (NZOF) is formed and granted provisional membership of the International Orienteering Federation (IOF). The first colour map at a scale of 1:20,000 (being part of Auckland's Woodhill forest) is produced by Colin Battley and Jack Ralston.
1974	NZOF Newsletter lists six affiliated clubs: Auckland Central, Bay of Plenty, North Shore, Pinelands, Pupuke and South Auckland
1976	South Auckland (based at Waiuku) which held its first competition in 1973 becomes the first to surpass 200 members . NZOF becomes an incorporated society.
1977	Central club (Auckland) amalgamates with the Pupuke club to become North West. Central Districts Orienteering Association (CDOA), having been preceded by the Midland Orienteering Association comprise five clubs: Bay of Plenty, Hamilton, Pinelands, Rotorua and Taupo The first event held in the Wairarapa was a WOA OY, run by Hutt Valley SE of Masterton
1978	The Canterbury club adopts the name Peninsula and Plains Orienteers.
1982	The Southern Overlanders Orienteering changes its name to Southland Orienteering Club. Kapiti Hills and Valleys Orienteering Club (Kapiti HAVOC) established.
1982	Wairarapa Club started.
1983	The NZOF News welcomes the Egmont Club.
1984	Whangarei Club is formed. Membership for Egmont, Hamilton, Hawkes Bay, Kapiti HAVOC, Pinelands, Red Kiwis, Southland and Wairarapa combined is reported as 703.

The events were held on a range of terrain ranging from coastal dunes forests north of Otaki, to mature gully spur forest intersected by native bush gorges in the Wairarapa, a sprint around Parliament and Wellington central, to complex farmland in the Hawkes Bay.

930 entries for the Oceania carnival events were received from 20 countries. In addition a further 115 entries for the World Cup races.

The full carnival combining the World Cup races with the Oceania Championships and supporting events was held over nine days of competition. An average of over 50 volunteers was involved in each event, in excess of 465 in total.

Council and community support enabled the success of these events and was received from the following organisations: Manawatu District Council (opening ceremony), Wellington City Council (civic reception) and Hastings District Council (closing ceremony) co-operated with the organisation of these events. Massey

University and Wairarapa College provided accommodation for entrants. Destination Manawatu, Destination Wairarapa, Destination Hawkes Bay and Positively Wellington gave support 'in kind' as well as assisting with promotion.

Thanks also to Ernslaw One Ltd and Rayonier Ltd, forest owners where some of the events were held, and from Ransfield Incorporation, and the Maori owners of a large block of land near Waikawa where part of the World Cup competition was held. Without support and access to such areas of land, orienteering events such as these would be limited.

Funding and sponsorship was received from the following:

- Wellington City Council
- Eastern & Central Community Trust
- Palmerston North City Council
- Manawatu District Council
- Hastings District Council
- Horowhenua District Council
- Pub Charity
- Hansells Ltd
- Packaging House
- SKM

When going abroad to a country far away, one is always curious on how things will work out. You made three great races in really exciting areas, which we always will look back at with great memories. You showed the World Cup can be organized in New Zealand and we will be happy to come back in the future. Thank you for a great week.

2013 New Zealand Secondary Schools Orienteering Team – Oceania

The New Zealand and Australian Secondary Schools team were based at Tatum Park for competition, and was held as part of the Oceania Championships. 8 boys and 8 girls were selected to represent New Zealand for this tournament, most of whom were part of the 2012 Schools team. New Zealand won 8:0.

World Orienteering Championships

The 2013 World Orienteering Championships were held in Finland in July.

The team spirit at WOC 2013 was excellent with the group as a whole supporting each other without reservation and made collective decisions where necessary. This was clearly a function of both the small size of the team and the nature of the individuals concerned.

In the week prior to competition we joined the Australian team on several of the training maps with their coach, Tom Quayle, planning exercises for both teams.

While the results at WOC 2013 were not as good as we had hoped for, but there are a couple of clear reasons for this. The first of these was a lack of experience in Scandinavia in general and Finland in particular. There are so many major events in Scandinavia that nearly all the European teams have significant experience in the terrain which most New Zealand athletes simply do not have. There is little that can be done about this other than individual athletes moving to Europe or travelling to WOC much earlier.

Notwithstanding the above, apart from Ross Morrison and Tim Robertson (who did not arrive until after the long distance) all four of the other athletes ran in all three individual disciplines.

Thanks to Grassy Knoll Outdoor and Trimtex for outfitting the New Zealand team.

Junior World Orienteering Championships

12 orienteers and 2 staff ventured to the Czech Republic to compete in the Junior World Orienteering Championships.

Front Row: Rebecca Gray, Renee Beveridge, Jula McMillan, Selena Metherell, Cosette Saville, Laura Robertson

The team was able to stay in the same accommodation for both the training and competition week, making the logistics for the team a bit more straightforward and also enabled our team to meet and socialise with other teams.

The Team Officials Meetings & Event office were on site which saved travel time and meant access to the JWOC organisation team was easy.

Prior to leaving the team setup a Team Blog and Facebook supporters group, which provided the orienteers a direct means of sharing their experience with those of whom who remained at home. It was good to hear of non-orienteering people who also checked in to see how the trip was going. The team enjoyed hearing how many individual 'views' the blog site had each day. This was in addition to the NZOF website and Facebook updates.

Feedback from the team was they enjoyed Jim Russell's coaching and didn't feel over trained or tired out from the training week…but they had enough time to check out the terrains and taper.

JWOC organisers training arrangements were fantastic – each training exercise had a location map, driving time to get to map, relevance, focus points for the training. This was essential for our team who had limited experience in competing in Europe.

Tim Robertson named The College Sport Wellington 2013 Sportspersons of the Year for his performance at JWOC.

2013 New Zealand Secondary Schools Orienteering

Canberra, Australia - 27 September and 6 October 2013.

The 2013 NZ Secondary Schools team included 6 members who had not travelled with a national schools team before. Team training exercises were arranged by Rob Jessop who used his extensive local knowledge to challenge the team. Derek Morrison undertook the role as coach for the tour team coaching & debriefing of individuals after they had competed and advice/tips to new team members.

Tim Robertson and Brianna Massie were named as team captains and spoke on our behalf at the school's functions.

The team used the 2012 team Facebook page to keep family and supporters updated on the trip, including photos. Again the response from parents and supporters was very positive and recognises the change in communication methods and social media, especially with youth.

The team met in Sydney then drove to Canberra, where all schools' teams were on one site. Nanette Bragg the Schools Carnival manager did an excellent job organising all the school's teams.

CAMPS

D-Squad Camp

The D-Squad camp was held at Mt Cheeseman Lodge at Castle Hill in the Canterbury foothills from 8 – 13 December. The camp was organised by Sarah Gray (O'Sullivan) (D-Squad Coordinator) with the assistance of a number of others including Jamie Stewart. Volunteer support during the camp was provided by Wayne Gray, Claudia Gray, and Chris Beckman.

Twenty nine (29) orienteers took part in the camp, some of whom also headed further south after this camp to the Junior Camp at the end of the D-Squad camp.

A number of National Squad members attended the camp to undertake coaching roles – Tom Reynolds (Head Coach), Matt Ogden, Gene Beveridge, Imogene Scott – as well as Nick Hann and Jean Cory-Wright. Other National Squad members - Chris Forne, Matt Scott and Georgia Whitla - set many of the exercises, while the coaching fell to those at the camp.

Coaching included input to participants while out in the terrain as well as facilitating a post run debriefs. In the evenings theory sessions were undertaken on topics included goal setting, common running injuries, sports nutrition and European orienteering.

The camp was a success with the atmosphere among those in attendance overwhelmingly positive and motivational. Everyone gave their all and took part in all trainings. The week also enhanced the social links among the junior elites and has already borne enhanced commitment with a lot more group training planned for Auckland over the rest of the summer.

Successes of the camp included location – many maps and possibilities for running, isolated to allow focus on training; atmosphere – focus on training and getting the most out of the week; flexibility – able to match training to group preferences; and good coaching outcomes for D-squad attendees.

Junior Camp

The Junior camp was hosted by the Dunedin Orienteering Club in December, based at Bannockburn School Camp and Cainmuir Camp. Sixty young orienteers from around the country participated in the camp, along with nine coaches and nine staff. The camp was an outstanding success in terms of the venue, coaching and development of athletes and coaches. Feedback from the participants was the variety of terrain (Naseby, Bannockburn, Hikuwai and Earnscleugh) and the maps made the camp special – especially those from the North Island. Three new maps were prepared by Bruce McLeod and Fraser Mills and used for the camp.

Despite some of the coaches being accommodated at Cainmuir Camp, a short distance from Bannockburn School, the school camp provided a suitable and relaxing venue for the camp. Separating the coaches from camp gave them some independence from the participants and enabled them to relax and focus on their core role.

The success of the camp was also thanks to the volunteers who helped during the week – Kate Cotter, Annie Grant, and Alan Wilden from Dunedin Orienteering Club. Jean Cory Wright (PAPO) played a major part in overseeing the coaching and her experience, advice on organisational matters as well as her input into coach development was very beneficial. Anna Engleback, Paul Teesdale-Spittle, Glenda Ryan, Chris Beckman and Mike Harding were the other parents and each of them contributed highly to the success of the programme.

Head coach Matt Ogden ran the trainings and led the coaches expertly. His organisation of the coaches, grouping of the participants into ability groups and his buddy system all were great ideas and a major factor in the successful learning outcomes of the participants. Matt's enthusiasm and passion for orienteering was infectious for both the coaches and the participants. The other coaches were: Nick Hann, Tim Robertson (both whom had a huge role in assisting Matt) as well as Selena Metherall, Fraser Mills, Laura Robertson, Shamus Morrison, Lauren Turner, and Rebecca Batin.

A great YouTube video was made by some of the camp attendees which really showed their side of the camp

Accountant's Report to New Zealand Orienteering Federation Incorporated

I have reviewed the financial statements of New Zealand Orienteering Federation Incorporated for the year ended 31 December 2013 in accordance with the Review Engagement Standards issued by the New Zealand Institute of Chartered Accountants.

A review is limited primarily to enquiries of company personnel and analytical review procedures applied to financial data and thus provides less assurance than an audit. I have not performed an audit and, accordingly, I do not express an audit opinion.

Based on my review, nothing has come to my attention that causes me to believe that the accompanying financial statements do not give a true and fair view of the financial performance and position of the New Zealand Orienteering Federation Incorporated.

KATIE FETTES MEMORIAL TRUST

The Katie Fettes Memorial Trust was set up in Katie's memory in 1998 to help develop and promote the amateur sport of orienteering in New Zealand and to provide financial assistance to the manager and coach of any national orienteering team.

One grant was made in 2013; Anna Robertson received $600 as manager of the JWOC team who competed in the Czech Republic.

The Trust encourages applications for funding in 2014 and hopes that clubs can let their members know that financial assistance is available for managers and coaches to ease the financial burden of assisting New Zealand teams at international competitions.
